PLAYSheriff Declares White and of InquiryChief Jailer and Deputy Under Suspension Until After Probing

In the absence from the city of District Attorney William H. Donahue, Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Eynes said at noon today that there was a strong probability of a Grand Jury investigation of the management of the county jail under Chief Jailer Peter L. White. He declared that such an inquiry depended entirely upon the outcome of the case of Wong You, the rich merchant and opium smuggler, who was taken to San Francisco last Friday evening by Deputy Sheriff and Assistant Jailer Joseph J. Moffitt, with the permission of Chief Jailer White, by the federal authorities. If this matter developed a condition that demanded action by the Grand Jury, the Assistant District Attorney said that his office would promptly proceed to that end.

Sheriff Barnet was present with the Assistant District Attorney while the latter expressed himself, and said that he would be the first person to co-operate with the District Attorney's office in a Grand Jury probe if developments in the matter of Wong You's excursion across the bay proved serious enough for Grand Jury investigation. The sheriff announced that he had suspended both his chief jailer and Deputy Sheriff Moffitt until the federal authorities in San Francisco got through with them, but declined to say whether the suspension would lead to dismissal from his service.

AWAITS DEVELOPMENTS.

"While I court the fullest investigation of White and Moffitt, I do not wish to go on record as being aligned against them. Both men have been suspended and will remain off duty for the present. My future action in their case depends entirely upon developments."

The sheriff said that while reports of grafting on the prisoners in the county jail by Chief Jailer White, Deputy Moffitt and others connected with the prison were in circulation, he could not believe any such stories. He said he did not think either White or Moffitt received a cent from Wong You or any other prisoner and would not allow unfounded rumors to this effect to influence him in his future action. The sheriff declared that the Wong You incident was something about which he was entirely ignorant until Saturday morning, but that even though White and Moffitt had waited until he left his office for the day before taking the Chinaman out, he would not regard it as suspicious conduct on his subordinate's part.

"I want White and Moffitt to get all the best of this inquiry until the facts are fully developed, and then I know they will have fair play."

Sheriff Barnet, accompanied by Attorney John J. Allen, his legal adviser, and

PRESIDENT TAFT
TO LAY THE STONE
Chief Executive of the Nation
Promises to Show Oakland
a Signal Honor

PRESIDENT Wm. Howard Taft will assist in laying the corner-stone of Oakland's $1,300,000 City Hall about October 10. A telegram was received from Congressman Joseph R. Knowland by Mayor Frank K. Mott this morning bearing the first definite information that the President will come to California, entering the State October 6, and the bay region about October 8. Details of the program will be arranged with Congressman Knowland on his arrival in Oakland.

Oakland city officials will immediately begin to make preparations for the reception to President Taft and for the program of the corner-stone laying. An elaborate program will be arranged for the occasion, and a number of prominent men of the State will take part.

The Oakland City Hall will be one of the most magnificent municipal structures in the United States. Combining the low monumental type of architecture of the classic tradition with the many-story office building, the building is to establish a new precedent in public structures. For this reason the corner-stone laying will be of general interest outside of Oakland.

"It is the most welcome news that President Taft will assist at the ceremonies," said Mayor Frank K. Mott this morning. "The presence of the President will be a great honor to the City of Oakland, and we should be grateful for his consideration in consenting to be the guest of the city on that occasion. Preparations will immediately be started for the reception and corner-stone laying."

The telegram received this morning reads as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C.

August 21, 1911.

Mayor Frank K. Mott, Oakland, Cal.: Called on President Taft this morning relative to participating in laying of corner-stone of new city hall in Oakland. He informed me he would accept. Will look up details with Secretary Hilles who has itinerary in charge. Tentative plans will bring President into California via Los Angeles on October 6th, and San Francisco about 8th. Will take up details with you on my arrival in Oakland.

JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND.

CONGRESSMAN JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND.

The visit of President Taft to Oakland to assist in the laying of the corner-stone of our new city hall is a great thing for Oakland," said Secretary A. A. Denison of the local Chamber of Commerce, when seen this morning, following the news of the receipt of the telegram by Mayor Mott. "We here at the Chamber of Commerce are greatly pleased at the news, feeling it an honor to have such a distinguished guest as the Chief Executive of the land in our midst at such a time, and we also feel his acceptance will serve to better draw eyes of the country upon our city which, we feel, deserves to be far better known abroad than it is at present."

In arraigning the plans for the President's visit here we shall work in conjunction with the committees in San Francisco and Berkeley, so that the program of his stay in this vicinity may be a smooth one.

"Plans will probably be proposed in the near future for the details of the entertainment."

JOSEPH R. KNOWLAND.

with the murder of William Henry Jackson, the aged broker. Although at the time of the murder in the Hotel Iroquois, the police said Geidel had Geidel's full confession, his attorney declared that he had prepared an adequate defense.

PATRONAGE
CAUSES
ROWCity Council in Lively Wrangle
Over Two Minor Municipal JobsANDERSON AND BACCIUS CLASH REGARDING APPOINTMENT OF
COUPLE OF FIELDMEN

Squabbling over patronage continued in the city council this morning ad nauseam until Mayor Frank K. Mott became impatient with his commissioners and declared that the "undignified procedure" would have to cease. The particular plums which caused the wrangle were the two little $3 a day jobs on the Key Route basin harbor work, which have proved so unpleasant that five appointees have resigned shortly after being given the places.

The positions to be filled are designated by resolution as those of two fieldmen. The work consists in going out in a small boat with a tide gauge and measuring the water on the levey now being constructed. Two of the men were made sea-sick, as Lee Anderson, who held the record for holding down the job for a week, resigned when he was shipwrecked on a rock wall.

A GREAT TEMPEST.

Yet over these two jobs the council has been wrangling for the past three weeks, has called in the city attorney for legal opinions, and this morning persisted in arguing at such length that Mayor Frank K. Mott was forced to call them to order.

The positions are in the department of public works, of which Commissioner Harry S. Anderson is head. Despite the numerous resolutions, he has been unable to induce the council to appoint one of the men recommended by him. One of the men recommended from day to day by Anderson worked for several weeks on the job prior to the going into effect of the new charter and the seating of the new council, and had the approval of Commissioner F. C. Turner. This was J. Schmidt, and the other was J. Montgomery, endorsed by Mayor Mott, whom Anderson succeeded in placing on the job for a week by blockading the council one morning when he was the only member on deck to second Turner's motions.

OVERRULING COMMISSIONER, Anderson's resolution appointing Schmidt and Montgomery last Friday morning, the council appointed Victor Boucher and Thomas Westoby on the motion of Councilman W. J. Bacchus. The men were to fill the places of those resigned on account of seasickness and other troubles within the past week or so.

To the astonishment of the council,

CONTINENTAL AND INSULAR COMMANDS TO BE MADE, ACCORDING TO PRESENT PLANS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The United States army is likely to be divided into a continental and an insular force. Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, is developing a plan for establishing permanent regimental commands in the Philippines to take the place of the present expensive one of transporting entire regiments to and from the islands every two years. Under the new plan, officers would be sent out to the island regiments and ordered home as is now done in the case of naval officers assigned or detached from duty with a vessel on a foreign station.

BRIEF MESSAGES TO CONGRESS FROM TAFT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President

Taft sent these short messages to Congress today, one urging a further appropriation to complete the work of raising the wreck of the battleship Maine, the second asking Congress to determine whether the wreck of the Spanish vessels in the American navy should be sold away, and the third transmitting reports of engineers of surveys on the Great Lakes.

SERIOUSLY HURT.

Mrs. Harley R. Wiley, wife of Attorney Wiley, who has offices in the Berkeley National Bank building and is a lecturer on pharmaceutical jurisprudence in the University of California, is the most seriously injured. She is occupying a cot near her husband and daughter in the hospital and is suffering from a fracture of two ribs, lacerations of the face and possible internal injuries. Dr. A. S. Gilligan, surgeon, found more serious hurts than have yet developed.

Attorney Wiley received a fractured right arm, right wrist and left ankle, a sprain of the left wrist and lacerations of the face.

Miss Elizabeth Wiley, a daughter, who is a graduate of the Berkeley high school, sustained a fracture of one broken arm at various times and one child had three fingers cut off.

FIVE BADLY HURT WHEN MACHINE PLUNGES OFF BRIDGE INTO DEEP RAVINE

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—The head of one family, Frank H. Martin, capitalist of Stockton, is dead and members of two families are suffering from injuries at Roosevelt hospital as the result of an automobile accident between this city and Lafayette, Contra Costa county, at 6 o'clock last evening.

The death of Martin, who was driving the machine, was due to his misjudgment in steering it across a bridge after making a short turn into the county road. The seven-passenger Cadillac car plunged through the bridge railing and twenty feet downward to the brushy and rocky bottom of a ravine. Martin was the only occupant who was not thrown clear of the automobile, which turned a somersault in the air and fell squarely upon him. The shrubbery where the other passengers fell was all that prevented further fatalities through contact with rocks in the bed of a dry stream.

BUILDINGS OVERTURNED.

SALINA, Kas., Aug. 21.—Wind that amounted almost to a tornado last night, overturning several buildings and injuring a number of persons, none fatally, it is believed. The Union Pacific depot at Wilson, forty miles west, was blown over, as was also a flour mill. Many telegraph and telephone poles were uprooted and wire communication with Wilson was cut off.

PARROT SAVES MANY FROM DEATH IN FIRE

"Come on Harry," He Calls, Rousing Master When Smoke Pours Into Room.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A talented green parrot gave an alarm of fire in a ten-story Madison avenue apartment house early today and saved the lives of two persons who would otherwise have been suffocated in the dense smoke which filled the upper floors of the building. The parrot, owned by Henry W. Dearborn, secretary of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration association, noticed the smoke shortly after midnight and roused its master by calling repeatedly: "Come on, Harry; come on, come on." The fire was in the apartment just above.

Dearborn wakened his family and ran with the parrot's cage under his arm to the street, where he found a policeman.

The bluecoat, marred the elevator and rushing through the upper floors of the building, roused all the occupants. The blaze was confined to two apartments, causing a loss of $50,000.

TRAINMEN BACK AT WORK

WESTERN PACIFIC ONE YEAR OPEN

CITY COUNCIL IN LIVELY WRANGLE

Important Improvements Ef-fected in That Time; Many Changes Coming.

Tuesday, August 22, will be the first anniversary of the inauguration of passenger service on the Western Pacific railway. Many residents of Oakland and other bay cities will recall the coming of the first passenger train into Oakland last August with its attendant celebration, for the new transcontinental line.

During the past year the Western Pacific has taken its place among the important carriers of the country. It has in this period been in what is known as "the construction stage." It has met the problems that will henceforth place it on an operating basis.

Important changes will mark the coming year, main improvements being contemplated. Its tracks through the Feather River canyon will in some places be reconstructed. Precautions will be taken to guard against damage by winter freshets and snow.

No special observance has been planned for the anniversary. The road will begin its second year under the most encouraging conditions. President Jeffrey, after an inspection of the property, has expressed its satisfaction with the results thus far obtained.

GOOD ROADS ARE UNDER DISCUSSION

Meeting Held in Davis Attended by Officials and Boosters.

A meeting held to discuss the good roads movement, and attended by Supervisor John F. Mullins, Secretary A. A. Denison of the local Chamber of Commerce, A. G. Briggs of Berkeley, secretary of the California State Good Roads League, and W. O. Jasper Jr., assistant county surveyor of Alameda county, as representatives from Alameda county, was held in Davis last Saturday.

Secretary Denison was among the speakers. Others were A. G. Briggs, C. P. Stevens of Benicia, and Hon. W. A. Bain of Colusa, who acted as president of the meeting.

PROMISED LEGISLATION.

Tomorrow the membership of a special commission of inquiry will be announced. This commission will assume the burden of working out a permanent agreement. The men expect an advance in wages, concessions regarding the consideration of future grievances and recognition of their unions. Heretofore the railroad companies have positively refused to treat with the representatives of the union who were not in their employ.

On the other hand the companies have been assured that at the next session Parliament will propose legislation providing that an increase in the cost of labor due to improvement of conditions will be a justification for a reasonable advance of railway rates within the legal maximum.

The men on the London & Northwestern road were still on strike today and there was some trouble on the Midland railway. The Midland employees returning to work this morning found that in some cases they were to be reinstated even in their old positions to which men who had remained loyal were promoted. When the strikers discovered that they had lost their seniority they refused inferior positions, pending a reference of the difficulty to the union executives.

Great numbers of guards, engineers, firemen and signal men returned to work at Manchester, but the porters, carters and freight handlers remained out. Additional troops were sent to Manchester to assist in relieving the congestion of freight at the railway stations. Of 100,000 strikers at Liverpool more than one-third reported for work early today and the number increased hourly.

GRAND JURY MAY PROBE CONDITIONS

Sheriff Barnet Asks Fair Play for White and Moffitt.

Chief Justice White and Deputy Moffitt went to San Francisco at an early hour this forenoon and reported at the federal building. The sheriff held a long conference with United States District Attorney Devlin and United States Marshal Elliott with reference to the Wong You matter, during which it developed that the former official intended to bring the case of the Chinese before Federal Judge Van Fleet in the form of an affidavit setting forth the facts. The United States District Attorney told the sheriff that the inquiry was a proper one for Judge Van Fleet to proceed in, and that it remained for the federal jurist to decide whether White and Moffitt should be proceeded against for contempt of court.

District Attorney Donahue's office will be represented by a representative at the hearing in the federal court and Assistant District Attorney Hynes said today that so far as his office was concerned Grand Jury investigation would depend upon what transpired before Judge Van Fleet.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP FOR ALASKA IS DEMANDED

La Follette Wants Government Control of Railroads and Telegraphs.

'PEOPLE ARE FIGHTING A LOSING BATTLE'

Morgan - Guggenheim Trust Will Win if U. S. Doesn't Act, Says Senator.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, in a speech, came out openly in favor of government ownership of the railroads of Alaska and of governmental control of the natural resources of the rich territory. He referred to a bill which he introduced four years ago, providing for the leasing of all mineral rights in the United States, although the measure was intended to be applicable, more especially to Alaska.

"The sensible and practical thing to do," he said, "is to create a board of public works for Alaska, to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, similar to the Isthmian Canal Commission. This board of public works should then undertake not merely to build a railroad from Controller Bay to the coal fields, but to acquire all of the railroads of Alaska, and settle at once the policy of the government ownership."

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

"It should similarly provide for the development of other public utilities, such as telegraph and telephone. It should operate and develop the wharves and docks and steamship lines if necessary to deliver the products of Alaska to the coast."

The Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate, accustomed to the highest profits on their investments, and demanding to a great extent immediate returns, must make exorbitant and oppressive charges.

The people of the United States do not demand an immediate return. They can themselves supply all necessary money at an interest charge of less than 3 per cent. Rates for transportation and for other public utilities may properly be low, with the capital cost as small as the investment would be to the people.

"Most important of all is control of the transportation facilities by the government. It would forever remove the irresistible temptation of discrimination, rebates and corruption, which have characterized the worst period of our railroad operation."

PEOPLE IN LOSING FIGHT.

La Follette declared that the people were waging a losing fight against the corporations in Alaska. Between the great storehouse of natural resources and those who are trying to develop it, he said, was to be found the "enormous power of the greatest concentration of capital that the world has ever known."

La Follette found a parallel to the present situation in Alaska in the struggle in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, a quarter of a century ago. He cited legislation of Pennsylvania and declared that in every instance it had failed to break the grip of monopoly.

WHAT TO EXPECT.

"When we have before us the history of this anthracite struggle," he demanded, "now consummated in the complete control of J. P. Morgan against the whole American people, can we expect any different result if we permit the Morgan-Guggenheim syndicate to get control of Alaska? This power will lie in their control of the docks, wharves, mountain passes and the limited outlet of those markets."

Justifying his contention that the government should control the development of Alaska and the conservation of its resources, La Follette pointed to the work being done now on the Panama canal. He said that the soul of the international arbitration, the elimination of military conditions and the betterment of the inhabitants showed what the American people could do "when called on to meet a great emergency requiring direct government control in the public interest."

"We are now required to decide which of these two methods the American people shall adopt in Alaska," he continued. "Up to this time we have been going blindly along the road of the anthracite coal combination, but it is possible for us to accomplish permanently in Alaska all that is being accomplished temporarily in Panama."

PEOPLE ARE THE OWNERS.

"There is, however, one great difference. The people of Alaska must be permitted to develop in the highest degree their own social and political conditions and individual enterprises. But the American people are the owners of the resources of Alaska. They have been preserved up to the present time by withdrawing them from occupation and use. The people now claim for their use and for the maintenance of the potential for their use. They are entitled to get the benefit of reduction in cost of living which will come from a utilization of Alaskan treasures."

"The specific case demands access to the enormous coal deposits. The people east of the Rocky mountains will gain by their development. Even the navy department is compelled to pay $9 to $12 for coal on the Pacific coast, which costs $9 to $4 on the Atlantic coast. The tests which have been made show that samples of coal from veins as thick as ten feet in the Controlled Bay region have a higher heating value than coal secured by the navy department on the eastern tidewater."

NEW YORK PLAYS HOST TO VETERANS OF WAR

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Religious, reunions and sessions of affiliated organizations meeting here in connection with the forty-fifth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, marked the opening of the national encampment week today. The chief topic among the veterans today has to do with the election of the commander-in-chief. There are two candidates in the field, Colonel John McElroy of Washington, D. C., editor of the official organ of the G. A. R., the National Tribune, and Judge Harvey Trimble of New York.

BARBER'S TIP IS CAUSE OF ARREST

Liberality of Bank Employee Sends Two Men to Jail.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—A 15-cent tip to a barber is the real cause of much trouble in the family of John C. Byland of Boone county, Kentucky. His son has been sent to the Kentucky penitentiary for five years and he is a prisoner charged with the embezzlement of $18,000 from the Richwood (Ky.) Deposit Bank.

More than a year ago his son, Raymond Byland, went into a barber shop near where they lived and got shaved. He did not notice that there was another man in the shop. When he got through he gave the barber 25 cents and told him to keep the change. Both Bylands were working in the bank; the son getting $50 a month. The other man in the shop was one of the numerous grand officers, several of which will be vacated this year.

The next morning this director called a meeting of the board, and an investigation was begun. All agreed that no man working for such a salary would tip a barber 15 cents for a shave. Before the investigation closed, John C. Byland and his son fled from Kentucky. Later the directors announced that $18,000 was gone.

Eight months after their disappearance Raymond Byland was arrested in Sacramento, Cal., where he was working under an assumed name. He was taken back to Kentucky and sent to the penitentiary. He saw his little child for the first time when he returned. Yesterday his father was arrested in Detroit, and was taken to Kentucky, where he will be tried this week. The father says he's glad the chase is over, and asserts that he intended to return to Kentucky and the board.

Indian Maiden Punished by Jealous Wife of Brave.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A Tuscarora Indian maiden who is in the care of the police-matron today will be sent back to the Tuscarora reservation this week to have her troubles settled by her own people. The girl came to the attention of the police following the receipt of several telephone messages from a suburban district saying that a young girl was being driven nude through the streets.

This was the statement of Supervisor Murphy this morning, when the question of building a road through the canyon was under discussion, at the instance of the Chamber of Commerce of Niles.

Murphy's statement was greeted with applause.

The petition of the chamber in question was signed by 450 residents in Niles, Pleasanton, Niles, Centerville, and Decoto.

Attorney Ritter appeared for the petitioners and set forth that the bridges in Niles' canyon for a number of years had been swept out by the winter floods, with the exception of those which had been built during the last few years. That was because the latter bridges had been constructed of enduring material, an enduring manner and above high water.

On the same ground, a road through the canyon, with the surface above high water and with a substantial foundation, could be made to endure also.

The canyon was a beautiful one, possess-

The crack team of Oakland Council No. 6, Young Men's Institute, will be one of the principal features in the mammoth parade to be held in Santa Cruz, Sunday, August 27, which is to be the opening feature of the grand council convention of the Young Men's Institute of the Pacific Jurisdiction. The convention will be in progress for one week.

This year the members of No. 6 will eclipse all former occasions of this kind, and endeavor to bring to Oakland the silk pennant which will be given to the council presenting the most distinctive feature in the parade.

A special train has been chartered to accommodate the excursionists. It will leave First and Broadway the morning of the 27th, at 7:45 o'clock, and will arrive in the city of "The Holy Cross" about 11. As the train will not leave for Oakland until 8 o'clock in the evening, the visitors will have ample time to see the many points of interest, for which the Surf City is famous.

James B. Doling, Stewart C. Cronin and Grand Director Harry J. Fazakerley, will represent Oakland council at the convention.

This being the fourth year that Stewart Cronin has been elected delegate to represent Oakland Council at the grand council conventions, it is being reported that council headquarters are being selected to one of the numerous grand offices, several of which will be vacated this year.

Delegates arriving today brought up the number of veterans present to more than 1500. An announcement that J. R. Thousands of Convention Visitors See San Francisco Blaze.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Fire of peculiar origin destroyed the entire stock of the Boston Department store, 1162-1166 Market street, shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, causing a loss of $12,000, according to officials of the fire department, and $35,000, according to the estimate of the owners.

The store was located next to the Carlton hotel, and consisted of a story and half frame structure. From information gleaned by the firemen, the blaze started in a debris grass plot in the rear of the building, was swept by a wind through the windows in the rear of the store, and when the first sign of smoke was discovered by Patrolman F. H. Draper, who sent in an alarm, the flames had spread to piles of clothing in the center of the first floor. Two alarms were sent to the fire department, and when the flame-fighters reached the scene they found the smoke in great thick clouds that seriously hampered their work. The fire rapidly spread to the half-story above and completely gutted the place in less than fifteen minutes, despite valiant work by the firemen.

John Bernard of Niles spoke along the same lines. He said that he hoped the supervisor would treat Murray township as liberal a manner as they had treated Washington township, if they could see their way clear.

The cost of the improvement would not fall on the county because assistance could be received from the Spring Valley Water Company and the railroad companies.

Captain Rod of Pleasanton endorsed the project, as did also several other residents on the property abutting on the canyon.

It was then that Supervisor Murphy made the statement at the opening of this article.

Murphy then announced that the surveyor was considering the estimates of cost of wing walls for the upper part of the canyon and that these estimates would be reported at the meeting of the board Monday next.

The whole subject matter was referred to the committee of the whole, in conjunction with the county surveyor.

Traction Company Cuts Off Ten Minutes by Abolishing Crew Changes.

Cars on the East Shore and Suburban line between this city and Richmond, are making the trip this morning for the first time with no change of crews at the county line, as previously. This cuts down the time of running between Seventh and Broadway, the terminal of the line in Oakland, and the Standard Oil works in Richmond, by ten minutes, making the run in seventy instead of eighty minutes each way.

This change has been in contemplation for a number of weeks, the conductors and motormen formerly running from the local terminal to the county lines acting as guides to the Richmond men, who will now make the run alone.

This reduction will be followed by another in a few months when an express service will be inaugurated similar to that now running between this city and Hayward.

Growth of the City Demands Larger Degree of Police Protection, He Says.

An increase in the Oakland police force has been asked by Chief of Police Adelbert Wilson and will probably be granted by the City Council. While a score or more additional patrolmen are needed, Chief Wilson has been advised by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. C. Turner that the cost of the additional men will not permit of any large increase. Of these, places were made by the council about two weeks ago for eight new men, and it is thought that seven more positions will be created.

Patrolman Captures Fleeing Man; Alleged Victim Injured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Patrolman Maguire, while standing on Third street near Harrison this morning, saw two men pursuing a third, and taking up the chase, quickly overhauled E. C. Chilbarris, a cook. The pursuers declared that the man had beaten up A. Pintis of 635 Folsom street, but while waiting for the patrol wagon the alleged culprit lapsed into unconsciousness.

He was taken to the Central Emergency hospital and held for observation and on his recovery will be charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The police learned that Pintis had been beaten with a broken glass following a quarrel and that six deep lacerated wounds of the scalp had been treated by Dr. Walker of 296 Third street.

FORMER CONSUL CUTS THROAT IN HOSPITAL

BOSTON, Aug. 21.—Rev. Samuel L. Gracey, United States consul at Foo Chow, China, for twenty years, committed suicide in West Newton sanitarium by cutting his throat with a razor belonging to one of the attendants. He was prominent in the Methodist ministry in Massachusetts before he went to China. He had been in the sanitarium a few weeks to recover from a breakdown caused by work and old age. He was 76 years old.

He was not under restraint in the sanitarium, as he had shown no indications of suicidal or other violent mania. Rev. Gracey came home from China two months ago, accompanied by one of his sons, Wilbur T. Gracey, United States consul at Nanking, China. He was born in Philadelphia in 1885.

LAMBARDI SINGERS RECORD TRIUMPH WITH DOUBLE BILL AT IDORA PARK

ANGELO ANTOLA, dramatic baritone, who sang the role of Tonio yesterday in "I Pagliacci" at the opening of Idora Park season of the Lambardi Grand Opera Company.

Storm Way Into the Hearts of Local Opera LoversMagnificent Voices of Artists Prove Surprise to Those Who Expected Most

With a troupe of singers and an orchestra that will add one more splendid chapter to the history of California opera, Mario Lambardi, the invincible impresario yesterday stormed the hearts of Oakland music-lovers and recorded a double triumph. This is the sixth time that Lambardi has visited the bay region, and the welcome he was accorded yesterday at Idora Park proved that his previous tours have been remembered with satisfaction in Oakland and San Francisco.

Opening with the ever popular double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci" in the afternoon, the opera drew a crowd that packed the Idora Park theater to the doors. "Rigoletto" was presented in the evening to a full house, and at both performances the storms of applause, reinforced with the ever-present Italian "Bis" and "Bravo," heralded a season that cannot fail of success if the promise of the first night is fulfilled.

Incidentally, Oakland established upon a firm basis her right to the name of a city of opera lovers. Lambardi has brought six opera companies to the bay region in the past fourteen years, and heretofore he visited San Francisco first, with an aftermatin season in Oakland on several of these occasions. The welcome extended to him by the musical colony on the continental side of the bay led him this year to visit Oakland first.

Lambardi has come with a well-balanced company. It is safe to say that there is not a Tetrazzini or a Caruso in the troupe, but there are some unusually fine voices; and it is probable that before the season is over some of the artists will have won themselves into such popular favor that they will be compared and praised and loved with the old favorites, and will displace some of the old idols.

SOPRANO PLEASES.

There was much talk yesterday of Lidia Levy, the coloratura soprano, being a second Tetrazzini. She has a clear flute-like tone and an ease in handling the birdnotes in the top register that is Tetrazzinesque, and there is no doubt that she is even more pleasing to look upon than the soprano who made us blister our hands applauding, last year.

Lidia Levy's voice is really more like that of Signorina Tina de Spada, who was with the Tivoli Grand Opera Company in 1902 and 1903, and for whose love a young Greek churchman in San Francisco committed suicide. It has the same clear ringing quality, as of musical glasses.

The other soprano heard yesterday leads the memory back to the old Tivoli times, and to the old Azzali Grand Opera Company which went to smash after a season at the California theater. Elvira Bosetti appeared yesterday as Santuzza in Mascagni's masterpiece, "Cavalleria Rusticana" in the afternoon. Madame Bosetti has been heard here before, but never to such advantage as yesterday. She won her audience not only by the rhythmic vigor of her voice, but by the dramatic power of her acting. She is a dramatic soprano with red blood, in her acting and a way of getting the full force of every shade of emotion across the footlights to the heart of the audience. She has the art and power and warmth of Barbareschi and Linda Montanari. Elvira Bosetti would make a magnificent Flora Tosca. In the Puccini opera, or a sympathetic Mimì. If Aida is included in the repertoire this season she should win a name among the operatic stars.

Adalgisa Glana is not unknown to local audiences. She sang a satisfactory Nedda at "Pagliacci" at the matinee yesterday. Her voice is a good mezzo-soprano and will prove serviceable throughout the season, especially if she has a chance at Puccini's "Musetta."

GREAT MALE VOICES.

With the male voices Lambardi has been as fortunate in that as with the women. He has one of the finest tenors ever heard on this coast, a tenor who boasts the title of the South American Caruso, and a splendid basso. Michele Giovacchini, dramatic baritone, is one of the best of his class heard here in many years, ranking with Signor Adama Greoretti.

The great lyric dramatic baritone of the company is Angelo Antola, whose Tonio in "Pagliacci" has probably never been equalled in a San Francisco or Oakland opera house. A voice of silk and silver, diamond starred, is Angelo Antola's. A splendid reserve of power, yoked with perfect artistic control and great dramatic instinct, make a combination not to be excelled. Antola was heard here with Lambardi in the season of 1906-1907 when that impresario braved smoke and ashes and desolation to bring the first opera to San Francisco after the earthquake, and his quality has improved since that time.

There are others deserving of mention, but these will give some indication of the fact that it is a real opera company at Idora Park, ready to give the classics in a way to satisfy even the most carping critic.

AMPLE ORCHESTRA.

Late comers were still bringing confusion to the ushers at the matinee yesterday when the solemn melody of the first notes of the orchestral prelude to "Cavalleria" opened the seahole of music. Lambardi has taken care to gather excellent instrumentalists, and Signor Mario Hediger, the conductor, demonstrated that he had his band well in hand before the curtain rose. The orchestra is considerably more ample than that used by the Bevan company last season. At yesterday's matinee it was just a trifle loud, the conductor perhaps not realizing that he is not leading in a big opera house with a great space running up to many galleries to fill with sound.

The real quality of voice of Manuel Salazar, the dramatic tenor of the company, who is known as the South American Caruso, was not indicated in the opening portion of "Cavalleria." In the beautiful Siciliana, sung by him before the rising of the curtain, it did not appear that a tenor voice of unusual quality was in promise. Salazar, who is a Costa Rican, discovered by Lambardi, was cast for the role of Turiddu.

The first half of "Cavalleria" was carried off with all the sensuousness and passionate abandonment which colors Massagno's score. Bosetti as Santuzza won the audience with her great singing of the

WOMEN IN THE NEWS*SPOONING BARRED ON SACRED SANDS*Lovers' Seances to Be Rudely Interrupted by Santa Monica Officers.

OS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Flirt cabs, or more politely, spoon cabs, will be Santa Monica's latest innovation in the direction of beach purity if present plans are followed through. It is proposed to detail special police officers to guard the sands and have for their particular duty the regulation of the Lulu and Leander stuff, for which the Santa Monica strand has become justly famous. A further function on the part of this detail will be the enforcement of the newly passed ordinance touching upon skirts for men's bathing suits and at least knee-length for costumes of women bathers. The policemen are to be given plenary powers in the matter of what is too lurid courting and will be empowered to make arrests at their discretion.

The lay-off, it was stated, would be uniformly effective in all four departments. Slack freight traffic is given as the reason. It was stated that freight traffic within the last five months has shown a decrease of 8 per cent below the normal decrease common at this period of the year.

After October 1st traffic conditions are expected to improve, and then men who have been laid off will then be taken back in the order of their seniority, as provided in the working agreements which the Southern Pacific has with the various crafts.

FREIGHT BUSINESS DULL.

The laying-off process will be gradual, it was stated yesterday, to harmonize with the proportion with which the road's earnings are falling off. It was stated that the reason for the unusual depression in freight traffic conditions was due to the lack of crop movements. All of the transcontinental lines, it was stated, are taking action similar to that of the Southern Pacific and other Harriman lines.

E. L. Reginald, president of the Employes' Federation of the Harriman lines, stated yesterday that the federation has yet taken no official recognition of the order, the news having been posted in the shops of the Southern Pacific that beginning today the eight-hour day with eight hours' pay goes into effect. The order affects about 8000 shopmen on the Southern Pacific. Similar notices have been posted in the shops of the other six lines of the Harriman system.

In Her Bare Feet!

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Regie Vanderbilt has set a new fad for Newport society by going crabbing in her bare feet. Following her example, a score of hostesses are now supplying their chafing dishes with crabs of their own catching.

Mrs. Vanderbilt drove her automobile a few afternoons ago from Sandy Point to a spot near the life-saving station at Price's Neck, and taking off her shoes and stockings, waded into the water with her crab net. In an hour she had enough fresh crabs for a large party that she entertained at her home in the evening.

She explained the manner of catching crabs to her guests, and then they have been practicing the same method.

FARMERETTE TO WED

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Beautiful Miss Leonora Brokaw, wealthy in her own right, whose family has been prominent in New York society for half a century, who jilted three youths from the 400, and who discarded the Knickerbocker set to become a farmerette, is so enamored of the life that she has determined to settle down as a farmer's wife. Her engagement to a Long Island farmer will shortly be announced. Since Miss Brokaw, who is a cousin of Gould Brokaw, announced upon her return from Newport in company with Mrs. Belmont's farmerettes, that society is callow and simple, and that no one with brains or ambition could be contented in the 400, she has been flooded with proposals from all over the land. She was informed today that the efforts of these men are useless, as she has already made her choice.

To Divorce Actress

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—George B. Mulligan Jr., son of a wealthy contractor, who voluntarily forfeited his right to $2,000,000 by marrying Bessie Van Ness of "Beauty Spot" fame, has brought suit for divorce.

He names an "unidentified man."

Mrs. Mulligan has sued her father-in-law for $50,000 for the alleged alienation of her young husband's affections and the Interborough Railroad Company for $10,000 for alleged injuries to a knee sustained on an elevated platform.

Await Forces

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21.—Everybody in the cottage settlement yesterday was looking for Mrs. William H. Force, mother and sister of Miss Madeline Force, fiancee of Colonel John Jacob Astor, but they did not come.

Cecchetti astonished his audience last night by conducting the full "Rigoletto" without the score before him. Marlo Cortada, a substitute tenor, proved that he had a claim to standing as one of the regular singers in the first place in the company by his singing of the Duke last night. He was extremely young, but sings with a fine finish and earnestness. His voice is not big, but it is unusually sweet and pleasing, and he has a good presence. La Mala e Mobile gave him his opportunity and he made the most of it. The interwoven strains of the famous quartet in the last act again showed the quality of his voice, as it did that of Adelgisa Cecchetti, a fine contralto, who was given the role of Magdalena.

CARRIES OFF HONORS.

Angelo Antola carried off the honors in "Pagliacci." He was welcomed back with a brave greeting as he picked his head out through the curtain before commanding the famous prologue, and his efforts to begin were stayed for many minutes by the applause.

Adelgisa Glana made a coquettish and pretty Nedda, suiting the part nicely.

Salazar gave the famous Canto lament in splendid style, giving a rich interpretation of the Pagliaccio role.

With the evening bill Lambardi brought back the ever popular "Rigoletto." This well-known opera, which was given the role of Magdalena.

'FLYING LEGION' TO ADVERTISE BIG EXPOSITION

Quick Trips All Over United States Planned by Directors.

BOOSTERS' SPECIAL BACK FROM NORTH

Songs and Slogans to Be Hurled Abroad by Committee.

SAN FRANCISCO. Aug. 21.—The boosters' special, having on board a number of the directors of the Panama Pacific exposition who had been treated so royally at the Centennial celebration at Astoria, arrived here at 7:30 this morning. The northern citizens promised to do their utmost to have the Oregon legislature set aside $500,000 for exposition purposes. Chairman Frank Brown of the exploitation committee plans to immediately take up with poets and song writers the idea of furnishing songs and slogans to be used for the "Flying Legion," an organization to be formed to tour the United States to secure state participation in the big fair.

DRAW UP RESOLUTION.

The directors on the homeward journey decided upon the following resolution: "Resolved, That the members of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco-Panama Pacific International Exposition excursion to the Astoria Centennial, in meeting this day assembled, do hereby recommend to the directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company that, in addition to the reception committee already being organized, and which we properly endorse, a committee of approximately three hundred residents of the state of California be appointed to constitute what is known as the 'Flying Legion,' the appointees on such committee pledging themselves to be subject to the call of the directors of the exposition company to take part in at least a percentage of such excursions to various points in the state of California and the United States as may be planned from time to time by the directors of the exposition company."

SAYS ELECTION IS SURE TO CARRY

Governor Not Worried Over Passing of Constitutional Amendments.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 21.—That Governor Johnson is not worried or alarmed over the safety of the twenty-three proposed constitutional amendments which Secretary of State Frank Jordan has declared are in danger was shown today when the governor said they would all be placed upon the ballot for the special election and would all be carried overwhelmingly by the people. Asked to comment upon the amendment affair and also give his opinion as to whether or not the affair stirred up by Jordan would be serious Governor Johnson said:

"I am not in the slightest degree worried over the situation. The time has gone by in the State of California when any officer could jockey official documents and thwart the will of the people."

"There is no cause for worry about the initiative and referendum amendment, nor about any of the other amendments. They will be submitted to the people on October 10 and adopted."

ARRANGING PLANS OF PARISH PICNIC

Horse Racing of All Kinds, Including Fancy Stunts to Entertain Merrymakers.

The third of the weekly meetings in connection with the preparations for the annual picnic of St. Anthony's parish took place last evening at the parochial hall, Sixteenth avenue and East Sixteenth street. Evidence of the enthusiasm and activity of the various committees and the people of the parish was shown by the large attendance. An excellent program of sports has been arranged under the supervision of the joint committees from San Francisco and Oakland, whilst special interest is centered in the horse racing, which will be a feature of the program, also fancy riding and exhibitions by trained saddle horses. Open air dancing is also an attraction.

Among those who spoke were Judge Geary, L. J. McCarthy, M. J. Keifer, A. J. Silva, T. Kane, T. J. Gallagher, F. H. Garell, M. M. Roach and J. T. Harrington.

BURGLARS STEAL GAS BURNERS AND STOVE

Burglars entered the premises of Mrs. A. W. Krause, 193 Ridgeway street, and carried off a large kitchen stove, together with a waterback and two gas burners connected. Mrs. Krause, who is at the present time living at 272 Ninth avenue, San Francisco, valued the piece at $20 and has complained to the police. Mr. McBroom, who runs a grocery store at 51st Telegraph avenue, reported that his premises were entered last night and a quantity of cigars as well as 55 cents taken.

BURPEE RETURNS FROM LONG TRIP

Vice-President of First National Enthusiastic Over Conditions.

Lester G. Burpee, vice-president of the First National Bank of Oakland, accompanied by Mrs. Burpee, returned yesterday after a six months' absence, during which time they encircled the globe and spent several weeks each in a number of countries that particularly attracted their interest, among them being India, Japan and Italy. They left Oakland February 15 and crossed the Pacific, stopping at Honolulu, the Philippines, Japan, China and India, taking in many side trips, which included most of the famous places usually visited by tourists.

They were fortunate in leaving China before the troubles in Hong Kong and the inland cities made traveling unpleasant. From the empire, the Suez canal route was taken and all the interesting places along the way made objective points. No effort was made to "do" any country in a specified time, so that cities which were most entertaining from a traveler's standpoint received the most attention.

"While we made the trip merely as a matter of recreation, I could not help but observe conditions in the various countries through which we passed," said Burpee today. "I was greatly impressed with the far east and particularly with Japan, which seemed to be about the liveliest nation we visited. Every inhabitant appeared to be engaged in some sort of occupation, and every acre of the land is made to produce. Ambition is one of the chief assets in the little yellow man and they are never asleep to opportunity."

"India is also interesting from the standpoint of its antiquity. Of the other countries, it would be hard to draw a comparison as to their relative features, for they are all grand and interesting. On the whole, it was a most enjoyable experience. We were glad to have the opportunity of getting away. I saw no country that appealed to me so strongly as the United States, and no land so attractive as California, and we were equally glad to get home again. Oakland looks good to me, and particularly so after having had a look at the rest of the world."

Mr. and Mrs. Burpee returned via New York and crossed the continent, stopping on route in the large eastern cities. They also toured the Yellowstone National Park. At present they are staying at their home, 575 Hobart street.

LATEST NEWS FROM OUTSIDE TOWNS

CHANGE READING FOR BOND CALL

Hayward Trustees Arrange for wide Open Bids for Alarm System.

HAYWARD, Aug. 21.—At the last meeting of the Hayward board of trustees a slight change was ordered in the call for a bond issue election for a firehouse and alarm system, which will delay the election about ten days. The words "Gamewell system" was ordered stricken out.

It was the opinion of Mayor Charles Heyer and the board that a Gamewell system were specified the company might attempt to "hold up" the city. Chief Elmer addressed the executive body on the question of a fire alarm system and sanctioned the change in the bond election call, stating that he knew of another concern which would bid to install an alarm system which was fully as adequate as the Gamewell.

DENIES DIVORCE TO MAGNATE'S WIFE

Court Declares Mrs. Crim Is Not Entitled to Decree.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Superior Judge Sturtz gave this morning denied a divorce to Mrs. Ollie E. Crim, wife of George S. Crim, a Mission realty dealer, reputed to be a millionaire. In her complaint Mrs. Crim set forth that her spouse gave her but $20 a month to support the family and that she was forced to retire at 8:30 almost every night throughout the year.

She added that she was allowed no amusements or pleasures despite the fact that she received $1000 monthly. Today Crim took the stand and denied all his wife had charged.

Judge Sturtz, after deliberating on the matter, declared that the action should never have been brought and denied the application.

GROWERS EXPECT LARGE HOP CROP

Pleasanton Ranchers Face Big Output With Prospect of Labor Shortage.

PLEASANTON, Aug. 21.—It is the opinion of experts that the hop yield of this year will far exceed the expectations of the growers and will be considerably larger than last year.

The young vines planted in the early part of the year are in excellent condition and will yield almost as many as the older ones. Owing to the agreement of the growers in this section not to employ Chinese or Japanese pickers, much trouble in getting sufficient help is contemplated when the picking season opens.

FATHER HOLAHAN BEGINS NEW DUTIES IN BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—Rev. Father Thomas W. Holahan, for five and a half years assistant pastor of the Star of the Sea Church in the Richmond district, San Francisco, preached his first sermon as a curate at St. Joseph's Church in this city at the 10 o'clock mass yesterday morning. He was appointed assistant in the local pastorate last week by Archbishop P. W. Riordan to succeed Father T. J. Brennan, who was transferred to the Star of the Sea pastorate two weeks ago.

Father Holahan is a native of Ireland, having come to California six years ago after having graduated from the St. Kier Seminary in Kilkenny, Ireland. Within six months after arriving in San Francisco he was appointed to the assistant pastorate of the Star of the Sea Church, where he has since been established.

During the long period which he has been associated with the Star of the Sea congregation in San Francisco, Father Holahan has gained a wide circle of friends, and together with Father Phillip O'Ryan, pastor, the members of the church will tender him a reception in the church on Thursday evening.

PATRICK FARRELLY, WHO SHOT HOLLAND, HELD

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Patrick Farrelly, who shot James Holland in the city prison, was arraigned in the police court this morning. Holland had been held to answer for assault on Mrs. Farrelly and it was this that caused the husband of the flames being communicated to the main forest of the Cleveland reserve.

Campaign Expenditures Morally Considered.

When is money spent for campaign purposes expended legitimately, and when is it employed corruptly? These questions have been brought into issue by the investigation the Texas Legislature is making of the recent special election at which a Prohibition amendment was defeated by a narrow majority of less than 7000. The Prohibitionists have a majority in the Legislature and they set up the cry of fraud the moment the returns indicated that the voters had rejected the amendment. They charged the antis with the corrupt use of money. The Prohibitionists raised a campaign fund and spent money themselves, but they claim that the other side spent more, and spent it corruptly.

It is worth while to examine what they call the corrupt use of money.

For instance, they assert that paying speakers to canvass the State and buying advertising space in the newspapers is an evidence of corruption. They insist that paying for the time and the expenses incurred by a campaign speaker is in the nature of bribery, and that the press is corrupted when large sums are paid newspapers for advertising. They bought advertising space themselves, but they claim that the larger sums paid by their adversaries influenced the papers to take sides against the Prohibition amendment.

Apparently, corruption is a matter of degree so far as the use of money is concerned, not in the way it is spent.

They urge that the money spent by the antis was used corruptly, because a good deal of it was contributed by the brewers and liquor dealers, some of whom live outside the State. The Prohibitionists claim that such contributors, being interested parties, had no right to contribute to a campaign fund raised to defeat a law designed to suppress the liquor traffic.

In effect, it is urged that the brewers corrupted the press and the people by paying the newspapers regular advertising rates to present their side of the case. The matter was labelled as advertising and its source was plainly marked, but it is claimed that the money paid for it operated as a bribe on the newspapers. The same argument, if it can be called an argument, applies in regard to speakers. It is urged that paying a speaker for his services is bribery in effect and should invalidate the election. The offer to pay a speaker for his time and expense is construed as an attempt to bribe.

It was charged that the Austin Statesman had been bribed by the liquor interests to oppose the amendment, although the Statesman has always been consistently opposed to prohibition. The publisher of the paper told the investigating committee that all the money he received was paid for advertising at the regular rates. From the Prohibitionists he received $60 and from the antis $272. In both cases the money was paid for matter printed and marked as advertising.

The pay of persons doing clerical and literary work for the anti-prohibition committee is also questioned as being immoral if not actually corrupt, although the Prohibitionists paid money for similar services.

But the issue raised is not one of consistency, but of public morals. If bribery is to be presumed when a newspaper's views coincide with those of some of its large advertisers, it can only be free from the implication of venality by taking sides with non-advertisers. Shall newspapers be forced to decline political advertisements to escape the penalties of corruption? If it be unlawful to pay a speaker for time and traveling expenses, spell-binding will go out of fashion and some new way to spread the light will have to be found. For what purpose can money be legally spent in political campaigns? If the Texas Prohibitionists be correct in their logic, every person who takes money for services rendered in a political campaign accepts in reality a bribe. If the argument applies to one it applies to all.

But it is absurd as every person of sense knows. The advertising does not control the opinions of established newspapers. In the late municipal campaign THE TRIBUNE printed the advertisements of all parties and candidates on precisely the same terms. It opposed the candidate for mayor who paid it the most money. The amount of advertising space taken in no instance was ever considered in deciding what candidates should be supported. We could cite the cases of other reputable journals as evidence that money paid for advertising does not buy support but doing so would in no wise change the opinion of people who can only retain their sense of moral superiority by ascribing base and contemptible motives to others.

President Taft comes out of the extra session with flying colors. He has not lost a single trick and has not given ground on a single point. He carried through the measures he wanted to go through and successfully blocked those he did not want to go through. The extra session was primarily called to ratify the reciprocity agreement with Canada. Despite strenuous opposition in both wings of his own party, the reciprocity bill was passed. He forced the recall provision out of the Arizona constitution and defeated the Democratic tariff-smashing program at all points. When Congress adjourns all the honors will be his. The Democrats took his program, but he did not take theirs. When he comes out here to be present when ground for the Panama-Pacific Exposition is broken, he will come with the prestige of victory and an increased popularity.

A Bourbon politician claims that Pennsylvania is likely to go Democratic next year. Perhaps he takes the recent burning at the stake of a Negro in that State as an indication that political sentiment is changing.

The President Coming to Oakland.

Hurrah for Hon. Joseph R. Knowland! President Taft has consented to lay the corner-stone of Oakland's new city hall.

He has done this at the request of Mr. Knowland. Mayor Mott wired Mr. Knowland to ask the President to come to Oakland while on his visit to California and lay the corner-stone of the City Hall; and in twenty-four hours he had the President's consent.

That comes of having a live Representative in Congress—one who is always on the alert to serve his constituents.

Not only will President Taft lay the corner-stone of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, but he will have the honor also of laying the corner-stone of the tallest building on the Pacific Coast, a building that will be the most original of its class in the world and one of the most imposing.

It will be a big advertisement to Oakland to have the President with us on that occasion. It will be a great pleasure to our citizens to welcome him again.

And He Can't Fly Without the Tail, Either

—DES MOINES REGISTER AND LEADER.

Dr. Wiley and California Dried Fruit.

It will be a sad day for the dried fruit industry of California if the enforcement of the pure food and drug act should be turned over to Dr. Wiley. One of the very first things he will do will be to forbid the use of sulphur in curing fruits dried for market. The sulphur is necessary to keep vermin out of the fruit. Ample experience, as well as exhaustive chemical tests, proves that the amount of sulphur used is not deleterious to health and does not impair the flavor and food value of the fruit. Dr. Wiley is bitterly opposed to it, however, and once made a strenuous effort to have the use of sulphur forbidden to our fruit dryers. In some ways he is a fanatic, and like all fanatics is not open to reason when he has once got his mind set. Besides he is a very obstinate and opinionated man who dearly loves his way.

His method of testing sulphurized fruit illustrates his way of doing things and his stubbornness in holding to an opinion once he has expressed it. Instead of testing the fruit itself, he took a quantity of raw sulphur equal to the amount that would be used in sulphurizing, put it in capsules and administered it to his poison squad in its cold raw state.

Of course it was deleterious. Naturally it revolted and disturbed the stomach. But was the test a fair one? It was anything but fair. Dried fruit is cooked before it is eaten. Sulphur is volatile and largely disappears in the steam during the cooking process. The small residue left in the fruit after cooking is neutralized by the acid and is entirely harmless. Hence the person who eats sulphurized fruit after it is cooked, finds it wholesome and appetizing, whereas he would be made sick if he ate an amount of raw sulphur equal to the amount used in sulphuring it.

But Dr. Wiley would not hear to the distinction, and would not agree to any other method of testing. He had declared that sulphur was injurious to the human stomach, and he was determined to have his way even if every orchardist in California was ruined.

Fortunately he was overruled and our dried fruit industry saved from ruin. But give him the power and he will insist upon ruining it. He is never satisfied unless he is breaking up somebody's business. That he conceives to be the chief object of his employment.

For the sake of argument we will concede the honesty of his intentions. But what we desire to point out is the impracticability of some of his ideas and the unfair methods of his procedure. He is forever trying to detect the presence of the fly in the ointment that he may have a pretext for destroying the ointment. He would condemn all cabbage because there are worms in some cabbages. He puffs over phrases and terms, losing sight of the main question at issue—whether the products under examination are healthy and nourishing when eaten as food.

He has been of value in the pure food crusade, but the excellence of his service is marred by fads and extreme notions which he fortifies by sharp practice and special pleading. When his errors are pointed out he yells aloud that the "poisoners are trying to get him removed." It is the old story of a man becoming intoxicated by a sense of his own importance and demonstrating his skill with the knife when no surgery is required.

The scheme to buy a strip of the Imperial Valley from Mexico is an inviting one, but it does not promise to be successful. Just now sentiment in Mexico is hostile to the United States and to Americans.

THE BRITON'S TUB

Sir Almuth E. Weight Wright, a surgeon in the British army, lays down the proposition that bathing is not necessary to health. Bernard Shaw backs him up, and some American writers have given a mild assent to the views of these distinguished men.

"Too much washing," says Sir Almuth, "increases the microbes of the skin."

"But," says the Medical Record, "it must be borne in mind that Wright, like Shaw, is an Irishman, and may have said such things with his tongue in his cheek, in order to take a rise out of the Anglo-Saxons. Ordinary statements do not attract the attention or arouse the Briton; so that extravagant assertions must be made to take him out of his somewhat apathetic attitude."

Most persons will believe that the Record has Shaw's measure in this matter. As for Sir Almuth it may be different. Yet it is singular that only recently Frank Moore, in his life of Goldsmith, explained the seeming absurdities of his hero who "wrote like an angel and talked like poor Poll."

Goldsmith, he demonstrates by several excellent examples, was always fond of doing what in modern slang is called "jollying," "joshing," or "stringing" the Englishmen he met, saying things which any Irishman would have recognized at once as a joke. But his hearers swallowed them whole.—Boston Globe.

MINING IN JAPAN

The mining industry is by no means new to Japan; it has been prominent for centuries, and 300 years ago enjoyed a period of great prosperity. Copper and sulphur have been mined and exported for 400 or 500 years, and gold and silver for centuries in Dutch and Chinese vessels.

An expert has computed that during the 160 years, say 1600 to 1750, the exports of gold reached the large amount of 3,770,000 ounces. The exports of copper during a period of 250 years, 1600 to 1850, may be taken at an average of 1560 tons per annum.

Many of the ideas and systems now in vogue in American and European mining centers were independently thought out and practiced in Japan, says the Mining and Engineering World. In copper mines matte smelting was adopted, and even now is found to be very effective for small work.

In other instances the Bessemer plant has been introduced. The former system was originated by an official of the Tadz copper mine in the province of Settsu over 200 years ago. It may be described as the Bessemer process in an elementary form, which can be worked with extreme economy.

The pumps used centuries ago in Japan were based on the principle of the Archimedean screw, and mine surveys were made very much as at present, with suitable instruments, by officials with expert training. The dolly tub system of the Cornish tin mines was foisted into Japan; gold was separated by sound methods and both gold and silver were assayed.

The only point open to criticism was the lavish use of manual labor. Now with true Japanese perception and appreciation of foreign experience machinery is being introduced and chemical up-to-date methods are applied.

The official supervision of mines in Japan is in the hands of the bureau of mines. Nearly 40 years ago a system of inspection was introduced and mining laws instituted, specifying the duties and obligations of owners. They were overhauled about five years ago and brought up to date.

The importance of the Japanese coal mines lies in the fact that they are in the Far East, and that they are practically inexhaustible. An expert has said that those who have made estimates of the whole world coal supply and have based on them the limit they would assign to the period of commercial prosperity must reckon with these vast supplies, hitherto almost untapped.

CIVILIZATION AND TROPICS

It has long been believed that tropical regions are unsuited to higher civilization, and that more rigorous conditions are needed for progress. The present-day distribution of civilization would seem to support this view. With few exceptions, our most progressive communities are located in temperate regions, and until recently any invasions of the tropical regions by northern civilization have either suffered rapid decline or have been kept alive only by constant reinforcements. Yet this superiority of the colder regions has not always existed. Civilization originated in tropical countries, as history will show. What is the reason for the change of the seat of civilization to the temperate zone? According to The Journal of the American Medical Association, which discusses this question in a recent editorial, the probable explanation lies in the development of tropical diseases, and the subsequent emanation and deterioration of tropical diseases. We know that malaria was introduced into Greece and Rome by African slaves. In our own country we have an even better established illustration, in the presence of the hookworm disease brought to this continent originally by African slaves, and from which probably over one-half of the population of the Southern states is suffering. We know that the tropics were not always infected with the disease. Torquemada, writing from Yucatan centuries ago, said: "Men die here of pure old age, for there are none of those infirmities that exist in other lands." But with the coming of the white man and the negro, and the importation of diseases from other countries, Mexico and Central America became hotbeds of tropical fever. The progress of modern sanitary science, however, justifies the belief that the tropics may in time regain their lost position. Already in Cuba and in Panama the possibility of eliminating tropical diseases has been shown. It is only a matter of time until the same methods used in those countries will be given a world-wide application. When this has occurred, will the tropics regain their old position as the cradle of civilization? Colonel Gorgas prophesies that, as soon as preventable diseases have been wiped out, it will be possible for the tropics again to become the seat of great civilization. This suggestion opens up an unlimited opportunity for speculation as to the effect on civilization of the control and extinction of contagious diseases.

NEW REMEDY FOR BOOKWORM

Scarcely day passes but some brilliant discovery of science bids fair to bring humanity to the brink of the millennium, if not to push it over. True, when the somewhat excessive emotions that follow these announcements have subsided, it is found that death, debt and the minor ills of the flesh are yet with us; that this is still a vale of tears. Nevertheless, progress is still progressing, and with each new discovery one more obstacle in the path has been removed.

We hal, then, with gratitude the report that a preventive against the ravages of the dreaded hookworm has been found. This, according to its discoverer, consists in the use of wooden shoes for footwear. Casting about in divers and strange countries, our scientist has observed that wherever the wooden shoe is worn there the hookworm has been completely frustrated in his fell endeavors.

On the contrary, in the regions where other forms of covering for the pedal extremities are employed the active energies of the wily enemy have brought about a state of masterful inactivity in its victims.

This is the true analytic method of arriving at unerring results. On the authority of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, we know that it was the favorite, if not the sole, system followed by the redoubtable Sherlock Holmes. It was the method likewise of the celebrated Wilkins Micawber, by which he was led to point out unmistakably the unnamable "Heep of Infamy" as the source of all the trouble that had befallen him and his friends.

In short, it has ever been the one infallible method of procedure for running down and ferreting out every dark and underground secret. And it is just as simple as can be. One has only to discard everything that couldn't have been the cause of any event or condition, and the one thing left must be the cause.

Squirin as you will, you can't get away from it. No wooden shoes, hookworms; wooden shoes, no hookworm. Backward, forward or upside down, it reads the same, just like an old-time acrostic.—Washington Post.

BEATTIE ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF WIFE

Stage Set for One of Virginia's Most Spectacular Cases.

CHESTERFIELD COURTHOUSE, Va., Aug. 21.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., arrived at the Chesterfield county courthouse today to answer to the charge of killing his wife in a motor car on a turnpike near Richmond a month ago and the stage was set for the opening of one of the most spectacular trials in the history of Virginia.

There were all sorts of rumors of possible postponements or continuances, but with more than sixty witnesses and subpoenaed by the commonwealth and a jury of twenty-four men from Route 10, the courtroom, the crowd began to assemble early, hoping to catch a glimpse of the merchant's son, charged with shooting his young wife as they motored near Richmond on the night of July 14.

W. T. Tinsley, the aged father-in-law of Judge Walter Watson, of the Chesterfield county court, whose grave illness gave rise to reports of possible delay in the case, spent a comparatively good night and the judge let it be known that notwithstanding illness in the family he would be on hand to convene court.

BEATTIE UP EARLY.

Beattie was up early, ready for the fifteen-mile automobile ride from Richmond to the jail here. His jailers say he slept well—as he has done since his arrest more than a month ago. He dressed carefully, glanced at the morning papers, ate breakfast, and sat waiting in the jail corridor for his first trip in the open air since his imprisonment.

Beulah Blinford, the pretty 17-year-old girl in the case, made no preparations to leave the jail in Richmond, where she has been held as a material witness, but Paul Beattie, the prisoner's cousin, who has sworn that he searched the room with which Louis Waller-Beattie was shot, was instructed late last night that he must be ready to make the journey by automobile to Chesterfield. Paul has said little since his incarceration, but on his testimony the commonwealth has hopes to send his 25-year-old cousin to the electric chair. The Blinford girl may be called as a witness at the trial proceedings.

The prospects of the actual beginning of Beattie's fight for life Chesterfield county has a prospective spectator or auditor in every family with a male member more than 12 years of age. To Virginia's credit it was noted that not one white woman was in court when the prisoner was arraigned on the indictment and during the trial who may be called as witness, it is believed that few, if any, women will attempt to gain admission to the trial.

ARMY OF REPORTERS.

Judge Watson spent several minutes talking with the army of special newspaper correspondents and arranging seats. Beattie leaned over the old wallnut railing and talked lightly with those near him. Dark circles showed under the prisoner's eyes, but he looked trim and alert.

The tiny room was jammed as the proceedings began, and to discourage the curious and idle, the court ordered that all disinterested spectators stand up and remain standing. Two women newspaper writers were the only white women in the yard or court building.

The clerk formally called the case for the commonwealth and the prosecution asked that the prisoner be arraigned. A motion by the defense for postponement until next Monday on the ground that the defense was not ready for trial was overruled by the court. Judge Watson said that the matter of continuance might be considered after the trial had been begun. The defense then moved that the indictment be quashed on the ground of error. Beattie was arraigned and entered a plea of not guilty. The jury was seated in half an hour.

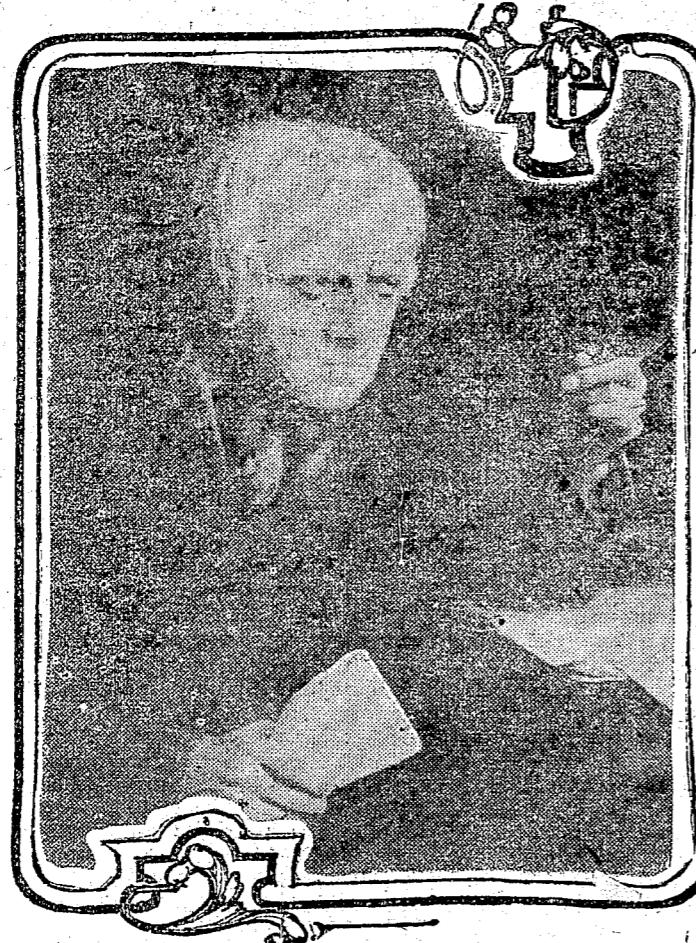

The man who is part of the show misses the fun, but he gets a share of the gate receipts.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

No matter in what way an old sore or ulcer first commenced, whether from a wound, cut, or bruise, or from the ulceration of a wart, pimple or mole, or even if it came without apparent reason, the fact that it does not heal shows that bad blood is responsible for the place. While the circulation remains impure the nerves and tissues of the flesh around the place are constantly being fed with unhealthy matter and the fibres are thus prevented from knitting together and healing. Purify the blood and the place MUST heal, its cause having been removed. S. S. S. cures old sores and chronic ulcers because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It removes from the circulation every impurity, and so enriches the blood that it nourishes the tender, sensitive flesh, and causes a knitting together of all fibrous tissue and thus heals the place. 'SCROOGE' HARKENS BACK TO DAYS OF OTHER THINGS

WALLIS CLARK, as Scrooge at the Oakland Orpheum this week.

(By LEO LEVY.)

"Scrooge," as played at the Oakland Orpheum by Wallis Clark and others, is decidedly more than a steel-engraved stage picture, something more than a well-acted tabloid and certainly more than a mercenary striving for footlight fame. "Scrooge" is a summons back to those days when you had time to read Dickens and a desire to live his ideals.

The harp of life is sweetest when memory strums, and this Orpheum act plays on you like your conscience. You may be calloused from crawling in the dirt after the gold that is buried there, but "Scrooge" pricks your thick skin and draws blood.

It doesn't last long, this harkening back to other days, but it is vivid while it lives. A liberal application of a laundered rag will wipe out the visible effects of sentiment, but a few of us remember for an hour, at least, afterward.

DROWNING OUT GOOD.

It isn't fair to stir up a man's belief that there's still soft-hearted humanity in the world and then send him out into the street where the inside voice of all that is good is drowned out by the roar of street car, the scream of the dollar's eagle and the wail of the millions with the devil in their tracks. "Scrooge" does it. And we laud it as a masterpiece and damn it as a conscience.

Wallis Clark as Scrooge might have walked out of "Christmas Carol," so vividly is he pictured. Clark literally sweats the portrayal; that's why he agrees exactly with the Scrooge you painted when you used to read Dickens. It's a pretty piece of stage work that doesn't spoil an illusion.

They are all there—Bob Cratchit, Tiny Tim, Mr. Fezziwig, Mr. Topper, the Ghost of Jacob Marley, Little Titch, Mrs. Marley, Mrs. Cratchit, the shopkeepers—all of them done well.

There's none of the company, or of any other company, that would dare exaggerate Dickens' or miss him by a scratch.

A Dickens character is like another and would you make it different there'd be a doting public of youngsters about your ears in a roar.

"Scrooge" is safe at the Orpheum.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Fire believed to have been caused by yeggmen attempting to blow the safe in Judy & Jonior's grocery, consumed four buildings and wiped out five business houses in the center of the business district of San Fernando at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. The entire town was aroused by two heavy detonations resembling those made by dynamite, but before the scene could be reached the entire front of the Harps block was in flames. The total loss was about $30,000.

HAREM-SCAREM BATHING SUIT ADOPTED BY GIRLS

ST. LOUIS. Innate modesty and hungry crawfish have combined to make the stockless girl at Plaza Chautauqua a pleasing reminiscence. Many of the girl bathers have well defined objections to appearing at the bathing pool sans honori and all of them have a dread lest some horrid crawfish with a strong grip choose them upon which to play "this little pig went to market."

In an effort to toss skirts into the discard while bathing, the swimming girls at Plaza have evolved a harem-scarem costume which seems likely to become so popular that the bathing suit of other days will be left to hang limp and lone-some from a hook in the owner's cottage.

Peter Munson, the swimming instructor, has been a much envied man all summer, but the climax came Friday when he was invited to take a first peek at the new costume and pass upon its propriety. According to Munson, the new style of suit is demure enough to escape censure and has decided merit in its simplicity and lack of impedimenta to the bather.

The pioneers of the skirtless age at Plaza are Miss Edna Keller, 3551 Arsenal street, and Miss Gladys Richmond of 5066 Cabanne avenue.

To the casual observer, particularly if near-sighted, the new bathing costume does not look much different from the regulation suit. It has bloomers and the fore and aft flaps look a little like a skirt at a distance. Now that Arbitrator Munson has approved the new suit, many of them have been ordered, for they allow the wearer to swim with much more freedom than when she is compelled to tow a wet skirt.

LAST ASTERS. Covers were laid for ten, the guests being Mrs. Robert Bain, Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. M. Soule, Mrs. William Pethick, Misses Emma, Fannie and Nellie Hart, Miss Lettie Halliday and Miss May Soule.

AT HOME.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Seroy, 596 Thirty-fifth street, on Friday evening. Dancing and music were enjoyed, after which refreshments were served. The house was very prettily decorated in greens and sweet peas. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Hamilton, Professor and Mrs. George Taylor, Miss Alice Carrico, Miss Mabel Stroy, Miss Lola Ray Crookshanks, Miss Jessie Dryer, Miss Ione Carrico, Earl Pier, Henry Brandt, Roy Dryer, Charles Tease, William Bolce, Edward Keeney and Dr. P. H. Petch.

EARLY SEPTEMBER DANCE.

The first of a series of dances and card parties planned for this season by the Hillside Club will be given on Saturday evening, September 2d, and it will be one of the brilliant gatherings of the early season. Mrs. Gordon Bradley will be hostess at the first affair and will be assisted by a group of the club members.

"Please Banish My Freckles"

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright: 1911. By Lillian Russell.)

THIS is the time of the year when nearly everybody is asking for something to cure freckles. The summer time is provocative of what one poet called "the gold dust, which flecked her lily skin." It is only the difference of the point of view, you see; the man, who loves you is apt to consider every tiny freckle across your nose as an added beauty; but your mirror, which you will remember I told you was your best friend, tells another story. Some very great scientists have declared that the sun is not to blame for freckles, although almost every one seems to be troubled with these brown spots more in summer than in winter. In his famous work on skin diseases Prof. Hebra of Vienna, the best modern authority, says: "It is a fact that freckles do not appear in newly-born nor in children under 6 years old, whether they are exposed the whole day to the open air or to the bronzing influence of the sun." It is therefore certain that neither life nor air nor warmth produces such spots in children. If we examine the skin of an individual who is said to be affected with the so-called freckles only in summer closely in a good light at other seasons of the year, and with the skin stretched by a finger, we shall detect the same spots of somewhat lighter color than in summer.

"We will also find freckles upon that part of the body that as a rule is never exposed to the light and sun."

Prof. Hebra regards freckles as "a freak of nature rather than a veritable disease," and thinks "they are analogous to the piebald appearance that is met with in the lower animals. All that the summer heat does is to make them visible by making the skin more transparent." Notwithstanding Prof. Hebra's learned opinion, it is possible to make the little blemishes less noticeable by bleaching the skin. This can be done in numberless ways, the good old remedy of our grandmothers, buttermilk, being one of the most helpful. This has bleaching and cooling properties and contains as well some of the oils which produce food for the flesh. Another old-fashioned method of bleaching the skin is cutting strips of cucumber peel and binding them on the face where the freckles are the thickest.

Equal parts of peroxide and witch hazel and rosewater make a lotion that is also very good for freckles. After using this lotion, if one will use a piece of ice all over the face, which hardens and cools the skin, it will be found very helpful.

In many people dark brown spots come upon the hands and arms after one is 40. These have been attributed to many things. One physician says that they are due to too much iron in the blood, another has put forth the idea of uric acid in overabundance in the system, and a third inclines to an inactive liver. The truth of the matter is that physicians disagree quite as much upon the cause of freckles, as they do upon the cause of cancer, and as freckles are not precursors of a lingering disease, they have not taken the trouble to look for something which would dispel this slight disfigurement.

Experience told me, however (I was a "freckle face" kid as a child) that diet has a good deal to do with these annoyances. I have found that red meat and grapes are particularly disfiguring in my case. I can eat all other fruits, however, except strawberries. Sweat baths I have found particularly helpful, and I always use the peroxide and witch hazel lotion. Very few soaps can be used on the thin skin of the girl who freckles easily, and these must be of the purest kind. Water which has been allowed to stand some hours upon oatmeal is very good to use instead of soap. Take one cup of the old-fashioned oatmeal and pour one quart of water over it, let it stand twelve hours, pour off and use. These are old-fashioned home remedies which our grandmothers used and they will be found just as good today, if they are used persistently.

It is the lack of persistence in using any methods of beauty culture which makes so many women say: "I have used that and it didn't do me any good." Does the girl who has had freckles for fifteen or sixteen years expect to remove them in a week or two? If she does, she will be greatly disappointed.

Remember, there are women who have never known they were not beautiful because some good man has loved and lied to them.

MRS. F.—I am sending you by mail a simple treatment by which a number of my friends develop their bust. To develop the forearm, lie on your back on the floor and extend your arms to the right and left on a line with your shoulders and open and close the fists from fifteen to twenty times, spreading the fingers wide apart each time the hand is opened. Repeat this exercise, but turn the palms down, each time the hands are opened, backs of the hands down when the fists are closed.

DOROTHY—Bunions are usually caused by wearing shoes that are too short for the feet. To cure the bunion you should relieve the joint from all pressure. If possible wear a loose slipper until the inflammation has subsided. Paint the bunion every day with the following lotion: Two drams iodine, two drams glycerine, and two drams carbolic acid. Apply with a camel's hair brush. I am sending you by mail recipes for an inexpensive astringent for enlarged pores and for the hair curling fluid.

L. W.—The habit of biting the lips is usually due to excessive nervousness. You will have to exercise your will power and overcome this beauty destroying habit. Such treatment not only ruines the color and texture of the lips, making them thick and colorless, but the delicate muscles become distorted and a twisted or protruding mouth is the result. Here is the recipe for an astringent ointment which will reduce your lips if you discontinue biting them: Melt one ounce of cold cream in a double boiler, using no more heat than is required to keep the mass in a fluid state. Add one gram of tannin powder, and one gram of chopped salsify root, and let it steep for five hours. Strain through cheese cloth into a jar and stir until cool. Rub into the lips night and morning. I am sending you by mail recipes for a tonic to stimulate the growth of the eyelashes and a simple sooth ing wash for tired, strained eyes.

FISH AND GAME PROTECTORS COMBINE BUSINESS WITH FEASTING

ASSOCIATION SITS DOWN AT NEWARK BARBECUE

Presentation of Gifts Brings Forth Merriment; Laws of State Discussed at Length

Three hours were spent yesterday about the banquet board, in the grounds around the pavilion, built many years ago by the late James G. Fair in Newark, this county, by the Alameda Fish and Game Protective Association, at its fifth annual barbecue. There were at least 500 bidden to the feast and every seat was occupied.

On the hilltop the sun was intensely warm but the tables were sheltered in a wood or cedar which had been planted years ago. Those present represented people who delight in hunting and fishing and among them were many officials, not alone of this city but also of the county and state. Among the last-mentioned were Judges Lennon and Kerrigan of the appellate court; State Fish Commissioners Sunborn and Newbert; Chief Deputy Commissioner Babcock; Judge Harris of the superior court of Alameda county; Justices Ferreira of Washington township, Quinn of Pleasanton, Fitzgerald of Livermore and Ormsby of Walnut Creek, also Senator K. Stowbridge and Assemblyman George Beck, who represented the law-making department of California, to which reference was made several times, because of the desire which seems to exist that there should be some changes made in the enactment now on the statute books governing the taking of game; County Auditor Garrison, Joe Mowrey and Deputy Sheriffs George Wales and Ed. Sweeney.

After the dinner there was a number of speeches delivered and, regardless of the fact that at least two hours were devoted to rights of memory, the auditors were still in their seats and disposed to listen to others had the presiding officer of the day, Sheriff Barnet, not decided to bring the exercises to a close.

TO ENFORCE LAW.
One of the purposes of the organization is to insist on strict enforcement of the laws of the state devised for the protection of fish and game. It aims to do this by creating a love for nature and for nature's works and at the same time compelling conscientious compliance with the ordinances on the subject by the super-visors of this county.

In several of the speeches reference was made to the fact that there is more of a violation of the game laws in this state than is good for the perpetuation of the animals of the forest, the birds of the air and the fish of the streams, and there was a general understanding that at the next session of the legislature the association would prepare a bill which was intended to remedy some of the evils along these lines now complained of.

The two state fish commissioners who were in attendance took occasion to declare that their work was not a pleasant one. It was not now a commission for a few of the people but for the benefit of all the people of the state. If any citizens knew where there were violations of the fish and game laws, and would report them to the commission, the latter would make use of its deputies to bring the offenders to justice. The same ideas were expressed by Chief Deputy Babcock.

One of the speakers was a representative of a gun house in San Francisco who criticised some of the actions of members of the commission but Commissioner Newbert responded warmly stating that the critic was the most selfish sportsman in the state.

The proceedings were varied, at intervals, with instrumental music rendered by the band which had volunteered for the occasion, and considerable hilarity was occasioned by a number of presentations of gifts to several of the officers and members, the value of the souvenirs being incon siderable while the suggestion behind the bestowal made the wood ring with cheers.

Harvey's Finances Are Aired in Court

Petition for Bankruptcy Is Temporarily Held Up by Federal Judge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The matter of the recommendation in bankruptcy of J. Downey Harvey, capitalist and promoter of the Ocean Shore railway, submitted to United States Judge De Haven in the United States District Court today. It will probably be several days before the court acts on the recommendation of Referee A. B. Kreft that Harvey be declared a bankrupt.

It is usual in such cases, however, for the judge to accept the recommendation of the referee, who is himself qualified to declare a man bankrupt if the petition is a voluntary one.

In the event that the expected happens therefore it is thought that the bondholders and creditors of the Ocean Shore railway will be able to attach the property of Harvey to settle their claims against the company. The first petition was filed against Harvey and J. A. Folger, asking that they be declared insolvent in behalf of Kate C. Jordan, J. R. Schroeder and A. Bernier, all of whom have claims against the corporation.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Sister Mary Alida, a real princess in the garb of a nun, is in New York today on her way to Hawaii where she will enter the house of the Sisters of the Sacred Heart in Honolulu. She is a born Hawaiian of royal blood and has been studying in France for six years. Her mother, a princess only two steps removed from the Hawaiian throne, married Wang Leong, a wealthy Chinaman. Their daughter, who was regarded in Hawaii as a great beauty, decided on becoming of age, to go into the church. She is a talented musician and artist and speaks eight languages.

Favor Uniformity Of Divorce Laws

Twenty-three Governors Reply in Affirmative to Query Sent From New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—In response to queries sent from New York to the governors of every state in the union asking their views on the desirability of uniform divorce legislation, twenty-three governors have replied, declaring themselves in favor of uniformity, either by federal enactment or by general agreement upon a statute to be adopted by the various state legislatures. The subject will be discussed thoroughly at the coming conference of governors in Spring Lake, N. J.

Governors Hadley of Missouri and Hoke Smith of Georgia declined to express their opinions. In stating their views many of the governors declared that for legal reasons federal law would be inadvisable. It is also maintained that while the divorce laws in some states are too lax, they are too severe in others.

WILEY TALKED THROUGH HAT, DECLARES WILSON

Secretary of Agriculture Explains Trouble Over Proposed Dismissal of Official

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson told the House investigating committee today about the trouble in the Department of Agriculture over the proposed dismissal of Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry, because of an alleged illegal contract for the employment of Dr. H. H. Rusby, a drug expert, at $1600 under an arrangement to work only 80 days a year. Dr. Wiley testified that Secretary Wilson at first approved a salary of $2000 for Dr. Rusby, instead of $1600.

"I don't remember anything about a $2000 contract," said Secretary Wilson. "I don't say he did not bring up a contract to me, for we are busy from morning to night."

He admitted that he did remember about a meeting Dr. Rusby was that Dr. Wiley came to him with a statement that he had an arrangement to employ Rusby.

"I don't know the details," said Secretary Wilson. "I had to depend on my subordinates for that."

LETTER PRODUCED.

Secretary Wilson charged Dr. Wiley with having kept facts from the committee regarding about one million sulphur dioxide in fruits. The secretary was asked about the action of the government.

"If that is the case where Dr. Wiley said he wrote me a protest against the action of the pure food and drug board and got no answer?" asked Secretary Wilson.

"Yes, sir."

Secretary Wilson read. "He had told Dr. Wiley he would be glad to talk to him again over with the board of which Dr. Wiley was chairman, when Dr. Wiley called the board together."

"I never got an invitation to meet the board."

That opened up Secretary Wilson's criticism of Dr. Wiley.

"There is another matter I recall, the question that Dr. Wiley knew about when he testified before you and should have told you," said Secretary Wilson. "He knew this—that we had entered into an agreement with the French nation to suspend the law until the referred board had passed on the subject, and Dr. Wiley was present at the conference with the French ambassador and acquiesced in the matter. He should have told you that."

Secretary Wilson, referring to Dr. Wiley's testimony that he considered Associate Chemist Dunlap his superior, said:

"Dr. Wiley was speaking through his hat."

Secretary Wilson said the Remsen referee board had its origin from conditions in California.

He described the uprising of the Californians against the order of the bureau and the use of sulphur in fertilizer and told of his permission to further investigate before the order was enforced.

When questioned about who chose the members of the referee board Secretary Wilson said:

"President Roosevelt corresponded with the great universities and when he found the men wanted I appointed them."

He said he had no reason to regret the creation of the board. He defended its legality by citing statute and executive orders and interpretation by the attorney general.

VOLCANO ASH MAKES GOOD RAILWAY BALLAST

Near Black Butte, in the Shasta mountains, between the stations of Weed and Sisson, California, the Southern Pacific Company has uncovered a huge deposit of volcanic ash that has proved unusually fine ballasting material. It was discovered already broken into the proper size for ballast and the company has just completed ballasting that part of its line over the Siskiyou mountains with this material. It is of a pinkish color, porous, yet has a great deal of weight and its porous qualities make it perfect for drainage of the road bed, that part of the road upon which it is being used being exceptionally well drained during the rainy seasons.

LOVE FREE, NOT FREE LOVE.

When asked where the marriage had taken place, Dr. Harding replied: "At the home of friends on Christmas eve," and it was learned that the ceremony was "without benefit of clergy."

"We do not have to be in free love," said Dr. Harding at that time. "We recognize four basic principles which must underlie all marriages, and which, we feel, have been compiled with in this affair of ours. These principals are normality of body and mind, harmony of mind and spirit; the contracting parties must be well mated from every point of view, and they must have the necessary money for support or comfort or have the earning capacity to insure it."

NEW MARRIAGE CREDI.

"A man needs the companionship and help and advice of a woman, and a woman needs the protection and companionship of a man. When these conditions are fulfilled, that is all that constitutes a marriage."

"Have clergymen the right to bind with the thongs of their narrow conventions, their hidebound beliefs, the destiny of mortals? Why is the race weakening year by year, generation by generation?"

Both Dr. Harding and Mrs. Macdonald had been married and had lost their mates when they met in San Francisco in 1909. The woman was singing.

BORRIES' CASE IS DAMAGED BY TESTIMONY

Slayer of Captain Madison Makes Fizzle of His Own Case.

WITNESS DECLARIES HE CURSED HIS VICTIM

"Sorry I Did Not Kill Him," Dr. Alexander Declares He Cried.

Testimony of a most damaging character, tending to show that Gus Borries, the ship's carpenter now on trial in the criminal department of the Superior Court for murder, was prompted by malice to fire the shot which terminated the life of Captain Bennet H. Madison of Horwitz.

At about 1 o'clock yesterday morning the trench was filled with several cords of oak which was ignited and allowed to burn. The flames turned the damp sides of the pit into an adobe oven and at 10 o'clock a.m. there was nothing left of the wood save masses of live coals, the heat of which was intense.

The meat was then impaled upon rods of steel and these were laid at right angles to the trench and immediately over the coals and in this manner the viands were done to the degree to render them fit for the餐桌.

At the same time sufficient, there were fifty gallons of coffee beans and in another place several boilers of "chili" was mixed to flavor the beef and mutton.

Hundreds of loaves of bread were also on hand and a squad of vegetable men were set at work preparing a dozen sacks of what was styled "the sweetest of sweet corn."

There is no doubt that the spread was appreciated for the reason that there were more than thirty waiters employed and many of them were called on a second, and, in some cases, a third time, to replenish the plates and cups of the diners.

TESTIMONY DAMAGES.

The most damaging witness against Borries was Dr. Alexander, who was present when he treated the prisoner for his wounds following his capture after the shooting of Madison. The doctor was called to a drug store to see Borries and he testified that the said "old fellow" did not know him, referring to Madison. "If the said had gone off when I put it to my head it would have killed me and then everybody would have had all right."

Continuing his testimony, Dr. Alexander said that when Borries expressed himself about the shooting in the way he did, he (Alexander) replied:

"We all very sorry you did not kill yourself."

The accused man, according to the witness charged Captain Madison with robbing him of his belongings and repeatedly called him an old devil."

E. G. Smith, a passenger of Hayward, arrived on similar lines. He arrived at the drug store a few minutes after Borries had been brought in.

He was called to show that while Borries was at that institution with his wounds no narcotics nor alcoholic stimulants of any description were administered to him. This being the purpose of this being to lay the foundation of the introduction of a statement which Borries made to Assistant District Attorney Hynes regarding the shooting, and to show that Borries was in his natural frame of mind when he made it.

This statement was given to the jury. It contained passages in which Borries expressed bitter thoughts against Madison and accused the dead man of robbing him.

Sheriff Frank Barnet was present while the prisoner was talking and going upon the stand that official verified the statements of the man who spoke upon the stringency of the law and declared that, although there had been some legislation, the subject at the last session, there had been nothing brought to his attention setting forth any dissatisfaction with the law and they referred to the matter of game in Alameda county. SUPERVISORS REFER CONCRETE SPAN IS PROPOSED TAX FOR FAIR PLANNED FOR CANYON

Question of Levying Impost for Exhibition to Be Decided.

COMMUNICATION READ FROM SECRETARY DRURY

Urges That County Take Action in Line With Others.

The supervisors this morning referred to the committee of the whole in the question of providing a levy for the purpose of having Alameda county represented in an exhibit of its products at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

This action was taken after the reading of a communication from Secretary Drury of the Berkeley chamber of commerce, which spoke of the necessity of the board taking advantage of the law enabling them to provide a tax for the purpose of providing a display of Alameda county products at the exposition referred to.

The communication was accompanied by a letter from Frank L. Brown, chairman of the exploitation and publicity committee of the exposition, bearing upon the subject. Drury's letter informed that the association had not yet been informed that the supervisors of Alameda county had not yet prepared for an exhibit of the kind referred to by levying a tax of 6 cents on the $100 value of taxable property which was authorized by the last session of the legislature.

Brown declared that no county in California ever had such an opportunity to advertise itself as would be presented at the coming great exposition.

MILLIONS TO BE SPENT.

Millions of dollars, he said, were to be spent in bringing the people of the world to San Francisco in 1915, and he felt that every effort ought to be made to secure for the counties a vast number of these people as permanent settlers and investors. This, it was said, could be effected by county exhibits, which in the aggregate would bring all the kind before men, before science, before the running of excursions of exposition visitors into the exhibiting countries.

Brown then showed that the following counties had already taken advantage of the great opportunity which the exposition offered by their several boards of supervisors passing resolutions providing for the tax referred to: Amador, Calaveras, Colusa, Contra Costa, El Dorado, Fresno, Humboldt, Madera, Mendocino, Merced, Napa, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Siskiyou, Solano, Sonoma, Stanislaus, Sutter, Tuolumne, Yolo and Yuba.

Brown further declared that ten counties in the southern part of the state had organized an association and intended to work together. That made a total of thirty-six counties. He had received assurance from most of the other counties that when their supervisors met in September the latter would make the levy. The tax rate was to be fixed on the third Monday of September and would be the last opportunity afforded the board to make the fair tax levy until another year has passed.

COUNTY TO CARE FOR PUPILS' TEETH

Dr. N. K. Foster Shows Great Need of Physician for Work.

Dr. N. K. Foster, who has charge of care of teeth of children of the Oakland schools, asked the supervisors this morning to include in the county tax levy a sum for the maintenance of a dentist for the purpose of doing the work needed on the defective teeth of children in this county whose parents are unable to pay for the same.

The matter was referred to the committee of the whole.

He showed that sound teeth were absolutely necessary for the health of the coming generation and that the care of teeth at an early age could tend to the conservation of health.

He examined the teeth of hundreds of the local school children, knew whereof he spoke. The making of such a levy would entail a cost of not more than one cent on every resident of the county. At the outset he would ask for only one dentist, but he felt that later the number of dentists would have to be increased. The cost would be so insignificant that he thought it right to be considered as against the health of their children.

In the examination of children's teeth he simply indicated the condition the teeth were in, leaving it to the parents to provide the treatment. Neither he nor those associated with him could perform any work.

Local dentists had been doing work for poor children, but the work had become too burdensome on private practitioners who were giving services gratuitously.

Supervisor Kelley stated in Dr. Foster did not consider the repairing and perfecting of teeth as essential as the finishing of a play ground.

The doctor replied that it was customary for parents to attach importance to his own department. He did think that the care of children's teeth was essential.

Supervisor Mullins asked the doctor if he had taken up the matter with the Board of Education.

Foster replied that he had not taken it up with that body.

QUESTION AND REPLY.

Mullins asked if the doctor did not think it would be better to first bring the subject before the Board of Education.

The doctor said he was acting on his own motion before the supervisors.

"If," said Kelley, "you should take it up with the Board of Education, they would let it to you; would they not?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"And," continued Kelley, "any recommendation from you would be acted upon."

"Has the Board of Education a doctor?" asked Bridge.

Foster replied again that he and those associated with him in this work did not prevail.

KELLEY WOULD REFER.

Kelley moved that the matter be referred to the committee of the whole to be taken up at the same time as the school budget is to be considered by the supervisors. He also said that he had

CONCRETE SPAN IS COURT HOUSE WILL GET NEW COAT OF PAINT

Supervisors in Favor of Stone for Bridge Near Niles.

IRON STRUCTURE SHOWN TO BE COSTLY AFFAIR

Maintenance of Webster Street Span Costs County $100,000.

When Supervisor Murphy brought up the subject of constructing a concrete instead of an iron bridge in the upper part of Niles canyon, and in other sections in that vicinity, he intimated that he preferred a concrete structure, although he had thought of having the surveyor give an estimate as to the relative cost of both an iron and steel structure.

Supervisor Kelley took the floor and again determinedly in favor of a concrete bridge in preference to an iron one. He showed among other things that concrete bridges could and were generally beautiful structures, that they attracted the attention of people, and caused favorable comment to be made about them. Besides, they were practically costless in their upkeep, while the expense of maintaining an iron structure really equalled the cost of material and construction within ten years after their going into commission.

In illustrating this point he made the astounding statement that the Webster street iron and steel bridge in this city, which was erected and has since been maintained by the Board of Supervisors, has for its repair and maintenance cost the county in round figures $100,000.

That, he said, was in excess of the contract price of the structure, which was put up about eleven years ago.

NEEDS OF DEPARTMENTS.

On motion of Supervisor Bridge, the heads of the several departments of the county were instructed to forward immediately to the board estimates of the cost of sustaining the several departments during the coming year in order that the supervisors may be able to fix the tax levy on the third Monday of next month.

Supervisor Bridge was authorized to repair three bridges in Crow canyon, Palomares road district, at a cost not to exceed $1400.

The appointment of S. Smith as painter at the county infirmary, at a compensation of $30 per month, was ratified.

Librarian Greene of the Oakland public library filed a report of the work done through the sub-libraries of that institution in rural districts in Alameda county, which was filed.

BOARD TO DECIDE SEWAGE PROBLEM

May Prevent Cannery From Using County Infirmary Drain.

The Supervisors have tentatively agreed to prevent the cannery near San Lorenzo from sewerling into the drain from the county infirmary. They have referred to the District Attorney, however, the question of whether or not the board has the right to prevent the use of that sewer by private individuals who, it was stated by Supervisor Bridge this morning, were making use of that accommodation.

Bridge said he was unwilling to act in closing off sewer to all persons save himself.

These bridges cost about 10 per cent more than metal bridges, but you can save in labor and materials, the supervisor said, and the cost of the structure will be wiped out by the fact that they cost nothing for their upkeep and last forever."

FOSS AGREES.

Foss agreed with Kelley, stating that it would be to the interest of the county to not consider the original cost of concrete when the saving in labor and materials was to be taken into consideration.

Kelley then moved, with the assent of Murphy, that the surveyor be instructed to prepare plans and specifications for a concrete bridge at Niles.

Murphy moved a motion, stating that Mr. Kelley's figures were correct and he agreed with him in every respect.

Supervisor Bridge shared the views of the other members of the board.

The motion prevailed unanimously.

SUPERVISORS LET NEW ROAD WORK

The supervisors this morning opened bids for two improvements contemplated in the county. One of these was the macadamizing to a width of 14 feet of 3400 linear feet of roadway on the main county road leading from Hayward to Niles, the estimated cost of which by the surveyor was $2500.

The second item was the macadamizing of the Castro Valley road from the Redwood road to a point 2000 feet easterly in the Castro Valley road district, supervisor's estimate of the cost being $1500.

The contract for the repairing of the Hough road was let to P. H. Hoare, his bid being $750, the bids of the other competitors being as follows: E. B. & A. L. Stone company, $3171; Granite Rock company, $3765.

The contract for the work on the Castro Valley road was awarded to the Granite Rock company, the sum being the other bids being P. H. Hoare $1739; E. B. & A. L. Stone company, $2129.

"Yes," was the reply.

"And," continued Kelley, "any recommendation from you would be acted upon."

Strong Refutation Made of Charges That Board of Supervisors Had Deficit on Hand

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning, there was read a report of the finance committee of the body showing a balance in the general and infirmary funds of over $258,534, to which Supervisor Kelley referred, refuting the insinuations of certain newspapers that at the time it was proposed to construct the new county hospital the board was facing a deficit of $15,000, when, as Kelley contended, there would be available for the work at least $200,000.

In honoring the requisition Governor Johnson said: "I think Hosick should be returned to Indianapolis to stand trial on charges brought in indictments against him. There is no more reason why he should not be taken back to Indiana to stand trial on the kidnapping charge than that the McNamaras should not have been brought to California."

The arguments in favor of the extradition were short this forenoon and at the conclusion Governor Johnson told the state attorney to advise him until 2:30 o'clock.
